

Bricks of India

Every Brick Tells a Story

The visual identity system for bricksofindia.com — India's LEGO® price comparison, reviews and community site. Use this guide for the website, YouTube channel, social posts and merchandise.

01 Logo & Wordmark

Two marks, one hierarchy. The stacked BRICKS OF INDIA wordmark is the primary logo. The minifig icon is the secondary mark for avatars, favicons and small spaces.

PRIMARY — STACKED WORDMARK

BRICKS
OF INDIA

"BRICKS" always in Brick Yellow #FFC72C, "OF INDIA" always in white, both with the black keyline. Never recolor, italicise or set on one line.

SECONDARY — MINIFIG ICON

For favicons, app icons, YouTube avatar and watermarks. Minimum size 24 px. Keep the full figure visible — never crop below the shoulders.

Clear space

Keep space equal to the height of the letter "B" clear on all sides of the wordmark.

Minimum size

Wordmark: 120 px wide on screen, 30 mm in print. Below that, use the minifig icon.

Backgrounds

Best on Sky Blue, Navy or photography. The black keyline keeps it legible everywhere.

02 Color

Toy-box primaries with an Indian accent. Brick Yellow leads, Blue and Red carry the mascots, Saffron and Green nod to the tricolour. These are the exact tokens used in the website codebase.

Proportional usage — white-dominant pages, yellow for emphasis, blue and red as character colors, navy for footers and dark surfaces.

03 Typography

Two Google Fonts, already wired into the site. Fredoka is round and toy-like for headlines and buttons; Inter does the reading and the rupees.

04 The Mascots

Two minifigs, both named Abhinav (it's printed on their backs). Red Abhinav wears the red jersey, cap and orange goggles; Blue Abhinav wears the blue hoodie with the heart. They are the face of every review, deal and video.

Red Abhinav

The Critic

Cap, goggles, red jersey with the gold star. Fronts reviews, verdicts, rankings and "is it worth it?" content. Owns the trophy.

Blue Abhinav

The Enthusiast

Blue hoodie with the red heart. Fronts welcomes, deals, community and celebration moments. Owns the phone.

DO

- Use one mascot per composition; both only for hero/about moments
- Match the pose to the emotion of the content
- Place on white, Sky Blue or photographic backgrounds
- Keep them large — they are characters, not icons

DON'T

- Don't mirror, recolor or redraw the figures
- Don't crop heads or rotate more than  $\pm 5^\circ$
- Don't use a negative pose (thumbs-down, shocked) next to a partner brand
- Don't add speech bubbles longer than one short line

05 Voice, Tone & Taglines

Warm, witty, straight-talking. We're fans first — but fans who check the price three times.

PRIMARY TAGLINE

Every Brick Tells a Story

The brand line. Use under the logo, in the site hero, video intros and press material.

SECONDARY LINE — THE WINK

Where Everything Is Awesome, Except Financial Advice

The personality line. For YouTube banner rotations, t-shirts, stickers, website section headers, end cards and merchandise — never as the main lockup.

We say

"₹18,999 at three stores. Wait for Diwali." · "This set is gorgeous. Your wallet will disagree."

We never say

"BUY NOW!!!" · "Limited time only!" · corporate jargon, fake urgency, or anything we can't verify.

House style

Indian English, ₹ with Indian grouping, LEGO® on first mention, honest verdicts even for sponsored sets.

06 Social Templates

Repeatable layouts for YouTube and Instagram. One mascot, one message, brand colors — every time.

YOUTUBE THUMBNAIL · 1280 × 720
